Valentines for the Villa

Macklin School's Pre-K to Grade 6 students were invited to be part of a very special project. In cooperation with the Macklin Co-op, our students created homemade valentine cards for the residents of the Villa Marie. The cards were then collected, put into card holders, and secretly hung on the Villa residents' doors by volunteers. What a wonderful Valentines Day surprise for Villa residents to find such a varied collection of valentine cards and sweet messages!

This was a great opportunity for our students to help brighten someone's day. Special thanks to Heather Stang of the Macklin Co-op for organizing this project!

Letter from the Chief

Well, how different has this February has been compared to last year? Who remembers the nasty cold snap that stayed so long last year??? We have had a couple of cold days but so far it has been a pretty decent month. This kind of weather definitely makes for better road conditions and this is a good thing for the Fire Department. So far the trend is continuing from last year (touch wood) and our call volume is still staying at a lower level than we are used to. This is a good thing!!! I will ask you to keep the winter tires on as we do live in Canada (lucky us) and the winter can still throw some nasty spells at us for the next 6 weeks.

We are still keeping up with the training on our meeting nights and had a really informative discussion on how to deal with a certain scenario that could happen in our coverage area. We are also planning to go swimming down at the lake fairly soon to keep our ice rescue skills in tune. The lake does have open ice year round and we do have special equipment to help us if we have to help someone who has fallen through the ice.

If you get a chance feel free to check out our Facebook page. Stephen Lowe does a really good job at keep the page current. Thank you Stephen!!

Be safe out there everyone and have a great month!!!!

Board Games and Potluck Evening a Huge Hit

On a Sunday evening in February, Evesham Community Church hosted a board games and potluck evening open to all. The church basement was packed as young and old got together for a fun night of fellowship and scrumptious food.

Families and friends visited while enjoying a meal together. When the kids could wait no longer, the time finally came to pick a board game! There were a great variety of board games - some were treasured games that had been in families for generations, while others were brand new Christmas presents that just had to be tried out.

Those gathered together enjoyed each other's company and the warm atmosphere until late at night. Keep an eye out for the next board game night - it comes highly recommended!

Villa Residents Treated to a Country Drive

Members from Evesham Community Church invited residents from the Villa Marie to accompany them on a winter's day country drive. On a gorgeous February afternoon, they drove out on Highway 17, passing many well-known landmarks.

They made a stop at Ellwood Farms, and were fortunate to see many calves up close. On the way back, residents pointed out farms and shared exchanges about who used to live there, as well as light-hearted banter.

MARCH*by Susan Conly

The other day I read that an old violin made in 1722, by the great Italian master, Stradivarius, sold for over £10,000; and its tone is purer and sweeter than when it left the workshop approximately 250 years ago! When Stradivarius went out to choose the wood from which he fashioned his famous violins he always selected that part of the tree that had faced towards at the north. That was the part that had withstood wind and weather and declared Stradivarius, 'violins made from wood from the north side of the tree always gave the loveliest music.'

Isn't that a bit like life? How often do we find that the strongest, yet the gentlest persons are the ones who have overcome many hardships and have endured many storms during their lifetime.

And such is the month of March, a month of many moods; sun, snow, cloud, blizzard, all within a few hours. I recall such a day in March many years ago, a day which changed the course of my life.

"What a lovely morning! Spring is almost here!" we exclaimed as we boarded the bus at the Estevan Collegiate enroute to Weyburn for a basketball tournament. Then within a few miles, complete weather change, and a bus accident during the worst blizzard of that winter. And possibly, ever, my closest brush with death, March 17, on the highway between Estevan and Weyburn.

It changed the course of my life — to a better direction? I'll never know, but change it did! Since then I have never quite trusted March.

All months occasionally produce the unexpected and in Saskatchewan it's March, and the weather. The other day I was visiting at St. Joe's; we happened to look out the window, and there busily scratch, scratching in the snow under a tree was a busy little robin. "A robin? But it's only the beginning of March." But whatever the weather, looking view-ward, March often unexpectedly, heralds Spring. Sap, responding to the heat of March sunshine begins to stir in willow and poplar branches. Under the still frozen soil young roots are stirring and here at the Villa over-wintered bulbs are now breaking into blossom.

A robin always seems to be the advance herald. On an early March morning, just at sun-up, on the farm, there he would be, one robin, just as though he had not been winging for hundreds of miles, busily searching for his breakfast under old Maple. And a few mornings later many of his friends had joined him to share the lawn breakfast.

When we were children the time between special days was forever, but as we get older time hurries. When March comes, it's almost Easter. And whether Easter comes in March or April, can summer be far behind? So whether March opens on snow or rain, wind or calm, whatever the weather, it is the beginning of springtime, the threshold of summer.
